

AWFUL STORIES OF CRUELITIES

Gen. Delary Makes Specific Charges Against British Mode of Warfare.

ABUSE THE WOMEN

Tells of Defenseless Females Shot, and Cold Blooded Murder of Prisoners.

PEACE IS IN SIGHT

Amsterdam, April 7.—President Krueger has received from General Delary harrowing stories of cruelties perpetrated by the British. The stories are supported by affidavits. Delary says the Boer women were placed as a human screen around the British as a protection against his attacks.

He declares that a number of Boer women have already been wantonly killed. Delary's own wife, according to his report was persecuted by Methuen's soldiers for the past twelve months and is now wandering about the field with her six children. Delary's mother, aged 83, he claims, has been driven from Klerksdorp after being robbed of all her cattle and having her house burned.

The Boer general then enumerates specific cases of defenseless women who were shot and also tells of the cold-blooded murder of prisoners.

Peace is in sight. London, April 7.—Reports received from South Africa today tend to show that the peace for which Great Britain's tax-ridden citizens have long been vainly hoping is at last within sight. There is joy in consequence in thousands of homes of the United Kingdom.

Foremost among dispatches to bring pleasure to British hearts is the news that Caspar Kruger, the eldest son of "Oom" Paul Kruger, has taken the oath of allegiance to King Edward. Twenty-four other relatives of the exiled president of the former South African Republic, all bearing the name of Kruger, have taken the same oath.

The dispatch from Pretoria intimates that all these former unconquerable foes of the British empire are now its earnest friends. Each will do his utmost to spread the propaganda of peace among the burghers that still remain under arms in the field.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—Ten young women from Darlington, Wis., were at the St. Charles yesterday for the purpose of paying an election bet. The party consisted of the Misses Gussie Grude, Eva Dillon, Manile Britt, Marion Foulis, Jennie Halsey, M. Hemming, M. Murphy, G. Henson, Virginia Goss and Grace Goss. All attempts to get the names of the losers in the novel wager were met with smiling refusals.

AREA OF WHEAT SEEDED LARGEST IN THE HISTORY OF THE COUNTRY

Amount To Be Sown in Wisconsin This Spring Over 750,000 Acres--More Than Any Time in Last Ten Years--Good March Rains.

Madison, Wis., April 7.—Secretary True of the state board of agriculture estimates the acreage of spring wheat which will be grown in Wisconsin this year at about 750,000 acres, the largest in the history of the state. For both spring and winter wheat, the estimate is about double these figures. The area of both in 1901 was about 300,000 acres, less than half of which was spring wheat. Secretary True says: "The disposition among farmers for the last two years has been to increase the acreage of spring wheat and there is a corresponding falling off in the amount of spring wheat sown. I think the amount of spring wheat sown in Wisconsin this spring will be greater than at any time in the last ten years, inasmuch as the harvest is early, which in itself is a vested last year."

DEAD AT GLASGOW NOW NUMBER 21; TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY INJURED

Victims of a Panic at Ibrox Park Football Match More Numerous Than First Reported.

Glasgow, April 7.—Twenty-one persons are dead as the result of the collapse of a grandstand at Ibrox Park during the international football match on Saturday. Two hundred and fifty more are injured and of this number, 199 are yet in the hospitals. A large proportion of the injured had limbs broken, bodies crushed and mangled, and heads and faces smashed. Several more deaths will probably result from the most critical cases of fractured skulls. Today the infernaries were besieged by friends and relatives of the victims of the disaster, and heartrend scenes were witnessed when the names of those who died today were posted outside the building. The appalling extent of the accident only became known today. Eighty thousand persons assembled to witness the game between the Scottish and English players. The authorities imagined that every precaution had been taken for the safety of the public, but without warning the twenty-five yard grandstand, containing a dozen tiers of seats, collapsed and the structure was precipitated thirty feet, falling in a heap of tangled timbers and iron work in which hundreds of persons were struggling for their lives. The collapse was hidden from the majority of the spectators, who were intent upon the game, and they did not learn of it until hundreds of people, streaming with blood, fled in a panic into the playing ground. Even then it was assumed that a minor, ordinary mishap had occurred. The authorities encouraged this belief and allowed the game to continue with the unique result that a great game was played, accompanied by the customary cheers while behind the scenes the air was rent with the groans of the dying.

RACE WAR ON IN LAWTON, OKLAHOMA

Armed Negroes Will Fight to Protect Their Homes--Await Signal for Battle.

Wichita, Kan., April 7.—Word was received here at 11 o'clock today that Governor Ferguson had ordered two companies of the Oklahoma militia to leave Guthrie for the scene of the race war at Lawton unless positive assurance should be received meaning that all danger of a battle between whites and negroes is over. Lawton is in a wild state of excitement, and the present indications are that there will be loss of life unless the negroes, who number about 300 persons, follow the command of the whites and leave the town before daylight. Forty negroes under the leadership of George Fitzgerald gathered in the square about the city courthouse this morning and made a demonstration.

They were attacked by a party of whites, and Fitzgerald was assaulted with a pick ax, it is supposed with fatal result. None of the negroes were armed, and when they witnessed the assault on their leader they took to the city limits, closely pursued by the whites. The negroes fled in the direction of Fort Sill. They returned at night with rifles, which they are supposed to have got at the fort. The forty determined men are now camped on the outskirts of Lawton awaiting a signal from their friends in the city to begin the attack.

A number of the white women of Lawton have gone to the courthouse for refuge and a party of armed whites is keeping guard. Commander Schuetze Is Dead. Washington, April 7.—Lieut. Commander W. H. Schuetze died at the naval hospital in this city Friday. He was appointed from Missouri and graduated at the head of his class at the Naval Academy in 1867. In 1882 he was sent to distribute presents among the natives of northern Siberia. He brought the compass to a high state of perfection for the navy. He was the navigator of the Iowa during the Spanish-American war.

Nicaragua Work Goes Up

Washington, April 7.—There are now apparently good prospects of the Nicaragua canal bill being adopted by the Senate at this session. The Republican steering committee outlined a legislative program for the upper branch of congress so far as relates to the Philippine bill, the Nicaragua measure and the appropriation budgets. Although there is a strong railroad lobby here in opposition to the canal bill, it is the opinion of such men as Senator Allison that it will be adopted before adjournment.

AN INDIANA TOWN IS BURNING DOWN

Flames Fanned by High Winds Threaten to Consume the Village of Chesterton.

La Porte, Ind., April 7, 10 a. m.—Chesterton has just made an appeal to this city for help and a special train carrying a part of the fire department is now on its way to the stricken town. Chesterton is twenty-two miles west of this city on the line of the Lake Shore railroad. It has a population of about 1,500. Eight business houses are in flames and the high wind is carrying the fire to all sections of the town. The place has no system of waterworks, but a steamer has been sent to the town from Michigan City and water is being pumped from Coffee Creek. There is but little hope for the town and the residence portion is believed to be doomed. Every man, woman and child in the town is engaged in fighting the fire. The origin of the fire is not known here. The fire is plainly visible in this city, huge sheets of flame shooting into the sky.

Washington, April 7.—An opinion was rendered by the interior department holding that the general land laws of the United States, including those relating to rights of way, have no application to Hawaii, and that, until otherwise provided for by congress, the Hawaiian laws furnish the only authority for the disposition and management of these lands.

GREAT RUSH OF PROSPECTORS TO THE GOLD FIELDS IN STATE OF IDAHO

Flour, Sugar and Salt Selling for $3 a Pound on Thunder Mountain--Snow 14 Feet Deep.

Spokane, Wash., April 7.—Flour, sugar and salt are selling at $3 a pound in the newly discovered Idaho Gold fields of Thunder mountain. There are now between 800 and 1,000 men in the camp and others are coming in at the rate of fifty per day. Sixty miles of the journey must be made on snow shoes, through snow that is from three to fourteen feet deep. Travel is all made at night, only when the snow freezes, as during the day time there is danger of snow slides. The first horse pack train to get in since last fall has just reached the camp. Seven horses were brought in on snow shoes and pulled rawhides, each containing about 250 pounds of provisions. Unless heavy snow falls again, the trail will be kept open for pack horses and supplies will probably soon be cheaper. Fresh deer meat, however, can be bought for eighteen cents a pound.

Continued reports of the richness of the country are in circulation. Men will not work in the Dewey mill at $4 per day preferring to go prospecting in three feet of snow. A recent discovery of rich ore on Indian Creek has started a stampede so that point, eight miles from Thunder mountain, and new strikes are heard of almost daily. Despite the fact that snow covers the ground in almost every direction, prospectors shovel off the snow and take out ore. It takes from eight to fourteen days to make the trip to the mountain after leaving the railroad, though the distance is but 140 miles.

NEW YORK HAS A DRY SUNDAY

Suspension of the Liquor Traffic More General Than for Years.

HOTELS KEPT BUSY

Five Thousand Seven Hundred Saloons Closed Tight in Manhattan Borough

MANY ARRESTS MADE

New York, April 7.—New York yesterday had the "driest" Sunday recorded since the days when Theodore Roosevelt as President of the Police board showed thirsty Manhattaners just what a "dry" Sunday really was.

Of the 8,000 saloons in the Borough of Manhattan 5,700 were closed so tightly that dynamite and a crowbar were almost necessary to secure a drink. The 2,300 Raines law hotels were open, however, and all did a lively business.

Made 121 Arrests. Seventy-nine arrests for violations of the excise law were made in Manhattan and The Bronx between the hours of midnight on Saturday and 11 o'clock last night. There were in these two boroughs fourteen arrests for violations of other Sunday closing laws. In Brooklyn the police reported twenty-seven arrests for violations of the excise laws; there was one in Richmond and none in Queens. This is a total of 121, as against sixty-four last Sunday.

A notable feature all over the city was the full view afforded the public of the interior of saloons that are usually screened from observation. In the vast majority of saloons the curtains were up or the blinds drawn back, showing the bar and the interior deserted. This was true likewise in the Raines law hotels, and while the barkeepers might be seen behind the bar in many instances, he was only drawing drinks to be consumed on other parts of the premises out of sight of the public.

In the "Tenderloin," now known as the "White Light" district, liquor was sold, but only under conditions which proved drawbacks to many of the thirsty.

Drinks in the Hotels. Drinks were served all day in the dining rooms of the big Broadway and Fifth Avenue hotels, and, although they were sold within the prescribed hours, no attempt at interference was made. No one, however, was permitted to sit down and order a drink, even though he ordered a sandwich at the same time. Something akin to a substantial meal had to be ordered.

On the Bowery it was exceedingly hard to get a drink. The saloonkeepers were not ready to take chances of arrest, and for the most part kept their doors locked.

In Brooklyn and other parts of greater New York the closing law was generally observed.

DESERT HARRISON FOR MAYOR ROSE

Cook County Democrats Declare for Milwaukee Man for President, Ignoring Chicago Mayor.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—The Cook county democracy, at a largely attended meeting of the democrats of this city at the Exposition building Saturday night to ratify the election of D. S. Rose for mayor of Milwaukee, pledged their support to Mr. Rose as the democratic nominee for president in 1904.

Mayor Harrison's boom for the presidency was side tracked. Six of the Chicago democrats who spoke at the meeting to celebrate the democratic victory boomed Mayor Rose, and not one of them mentioned the name of Mayor Harrison. It was evidently a pre-arranged plan, although the leaders deny it, and explain that it was purely accidental, and that it was proper that, being in Mayor Rose's town they should glorify him.

BUSINESS MEN WILL MEET TO SETTLE CEMENT POST MATTER TONIGHT

Parties Interested Have Signed a Contract Drawn Up by the City—Committee Will Sign.

The question as to whether the American Cement Post Co. will locate in Janesville or not will be settled this evening at a meeting to be held in the municipal court room at 7:30 o'clock. The soliciting committee are short about $350, and this amount must be made good before the contract can be signed.

Saturday J. W. Margenthaler and L. C. Cole, representing the Cement Post Co., signed a contract feeling quite sure that the city would make up the remainder of the bonus, so the contract could be also signed by the committee.

President Levi B. Carle of the Business Men's association has issued the following call to the members of the association:

"A meeting of the Janesville Business Men's association is hereby called at the municipal court room for this evening, at 7:30 o'clock to hear the report of the committee on the Cement Post company proposition. The contract which must be entered into has been signed by Messrs. Margenthaler and Cole, of the Cement Post company, and the business men on Monday evening must authorize the president and secretary of the Janesville Business Men's association to sign said contract. It is imperative that every business man in the city should attend this meeting, as no longer delay will be allowed by the parties interested. The contract will be read, subject to the immediate approval of the association."

STUDENT VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT SPREADS

Interesting Services at the Baptist Church in This City Held Last Evening.

The evening service at the Baptist church yesterday was devoted to an explanation of what is known as the "Students Volunteer Movement." The movement was explained by three students of the state university at Madison, two of whom, Miss Susie Lowell and Arthur Anderson are residents of Janesville.

Miss Lowell gave the historical phase of the movement. Samuel R. Mills, a professor of Williams college, became interested in students of the college in the scheme. In 1896 the first organized body of students was formed for the purpose of Christianizing the World in This Generation.

The movement spread to other colleges and now has members in over 2,000 colleges and institutions of learning in this country and Canada. Membership is confined exclusively to students or graduates of colleges and schools. In the later years the growth of the movement has been marvelous. In 1894 only 600 interested in this work, while now the students in some 2,000 institutions are helping the work along, and God has raised up a mighty army of young men and women to fight for his cause.

Mr. Arthur Anderson spoke of the recent international convention at Toronto, Canada, a gathering of 295 delegates 700 of whom had come direct from the foreign fields of action. Mr. Anderson spoke interestingly of the work of the convention, which was noted for a most remarkable manifestation of a true, zealous, Christian spirit.

Some of the best Christian workers said the movement is known for its perfect organization and true Christian spirit. Speakers at the convention told of the great work done in Korea, China, Japan, India, Africa, and other countries.

W. A. Groves of Madison, spoke of the responsibility of all in supporting the movement to Christianize the world during this generation.

Those who remain at home are just as responsible as those who go abroad. Every one has a place in this movement. It is not what we want to do, but what God wants us to do. Water to remain pure must be in motion and this movement at its best must be always active.

THE AUTOMOBILE BY CLARENCE ROWE

Former Well-Known Janesville Boy, and the Son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Rowe.

Clarence Rowe, a former well known Janesville boy and the son of Register of Deeds and Mrs. O. D. Rowe, sends the Gazette the following interesting account of the modern automobile. Mr. Rowe now holds a responsible position in Philadelphia, with the Fournier-Searchmont Automobile Co.

The advent of the modern automobiles, is a step in the progress of locomotion, of more importance than the present few developments have brought to public notice. For many years the subject has been the source of much study and experiment; with the result of bringing into use, a power adapted alike to usefulness for the tradesman and the farmer, the manufacturer and legislator.

Consider the vehicle to pump the water and thresh the grain for the farmer, and carry it to market, propelled by a power that never tires. Consider the pleasure vehicle, speeding mile after mile, skimming along as fast as one wishes to ride, from village to village, over hills and through valleys, mile after mile with never a stop for machinery to rest. Such is the prospect of today; this the new road locomotive, requiring only a ride above the unseen power to convince the most skeptical that a place in the world is now waiting for this powerful iron horse. He will stand in the stable day after day without care or expense, ready at any minute to go on the road for a hundred miles, breathing gasoline vapor or to keep up the life and power as it runs. Coasting down hill is true sport, when without effort you can coast up again.

The automobile will not replace the horse. It cannot for each has its own particular adaptation; but they will share the work and side by side will help each other.

An examination of the source of power in an automobile propelled by a gas engine may be interesting to those who have not taken up the subject. Such machines are made from five to twenty-five horse-power for pleasure vehicles, and even as high as sixty to ninety horse-power for racing machines.

To drive three thousand pounds over the ground at the speed of the fastest train, requires sixty horse-power in the world's most famous racing machine owned by Fournier, the French chauffeur, and the Paris-Vienna race this coming spring, will undoubtedly bring forth vehicles of much greater power and speed. This famous Fournier racing machine has made a mile in one and two-fifths seconds. It runs the distance from Paris to Berlin, an hour faster than the fastest passenger train time, racing over plains and hills, through dust and sand, sometimes over good stretches of road as fast as seventy miles an hour; the chauffeur and attendant crouching low to protect themselves from the cutting wind, wind caused only by the speed at which they travel. The machine is long and low. The engine is placed over the front axle under a cover, the wheels being driven by chains on the sides. It is the accepted theory of all French makes, now much copied by American manufacturers, who started ten years later than the French in automobile work; but expect soon to sell them American automobiles, as we now sell them other American machines, for the French shops are filled with Yankee ideas.

The enormous power of Fournier's racing machine comes from a four cylinder engine. The fuel is gasoline, which being mixed with air is drawn into the engine cylinders and ignited, exploding and expanding with great force. The amount of gasoline required is small; a cupful would suffice for several miles. The present outlook promises development of machines for the land and the air that will benefit the world as the locomotive has, and those who are young may expect to see the airship share the railroad's burden, and the automobile help the horse.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

After a heated campaign, a little time is always necessary for the smoke to blow away, and the atmosphere to clear. This has been true concerning the Milwaukee election, and many conjectures have been made as to what effect, if any, the result would have on the state campaign. Analyzed in the light of events which have transpired since election day, the situation is not difficult to decipher. The administration press of the state, led by the Milwaukee organ, is as jubilant over the election of a democratic mayor, as it will be over the success of the governor in the convention, if that should occur.

This is of course significant, and indicates the class of party loyalty with which this wing of the party is inspired. But it lacks weight, and will have less influence on thinking people, than a gallery university yell on a convention.

This element is not only jubilant, but audacious, having the nerve to claim that Senator Whitehead, is a nonentity, and solicitude prompts the suggestion of another candidate.

A Washington correspondent states in glowing terms, that the Wisconsin delegation is up in the air, over results, and looking vigorously for a place to light.

Major Anson's defeat is charged in a measure to his puritanical ideas, and the proposition is submitted, "Anson can't carry Milwaukee, Whitehead can't carry the state."

This sort of clap trap argument, is all of it too silly to command serious attention. The fact that the LaFollette press glories in democratic victory is not at all surprising, neither is it alarming. It represents a limited constituency and many men who are friendly to the governor, and who would like to see him re-nominated, are more loyal to the party, than to the chief executive, and the natural reaction along this line has already set in. The rank and file of the republican party believe, in principle, more than they believe in men, and they neither shout nor applaud over republican defeat. Many good republicans are, just now engaged in doing a little sober thinking for themselves and the result of this self-communion, will be allegiance to the party at the expense of any disloyal element connected with it.

So far as the Washington delegation is concerned, the opinion of the dozen men who have been honored at the National Capitol, is less significant than the opinion of the same number of men in the state. These gentlemen, or at least the most of them, have either been on the fence, or up in the air, on state matters, ever since the campaign opened. If the Milwaukee election indicates safe lighting ground, it will be a good thing for all concerned.

The question of puritanism and personal liberty is not vital to the state campaign. If Major Anson made any mistake, it was by not standing on his dignity and record as a man. Apologies for sobriety and good citizenship are not demanded of men selected for office, and they are always elements of weakness.

Senator Whitehead, as the chosen representative of the conservative element of the party, is in the campaign to stay. He is not responsible for being selected, neither did he accept the honor without careful consideration. There is no disposition to retire him from the field, however gratifying that might be to the men who oppose him, neither is he inclined to voluntarily withdraw for the very good reason, that there is no occasion for such action, and for the more important reason that such a course would be suicidal to the party.

The governor and his friends, with all the democratic support they can muster, will be obliged to meet the issue squarely. The nominee of the convention will be either Whitehead or LaFollette, and if loyalty to the party prevails, one of these gentlemen will be the next governor of the state.

The Gazette is firm in the belief that Senator Whitehead will be the man, and the paper knows enough about him to state emphatically that he will make an ideal governor in every respect.

CONDENSED WISDOM.
There is one man in the state who is thoroughly competent to direct all political parties to successful issue, and that is the Milwaukee Journal man. There is more wisdom boiled down and packed away for ready reference, in the office of this enterprising paper, than can be found in all other shops combined. The Journal seldom supports a candidate for any office. In the recent city election it was opposed to Rose, had no time for Anson or the social democratic candidate, for mayor. The paper devotes a good deal of energy criticising the conservative element of the republican party, and instructing them how to conduct a campaign. It has no use for Senator Whitehead, since it became apparent that he would be a candidate before the convention. It has less time for Governor LaFollette

PRESS COMMENT

Mennasha Breeze: The so-called republicans of Milwaukee who attempted to control the republican city convention and failed, will never unite upon anything unless they absolutely control it. To attempt to fix the blame upon the republican league because these political pirates boiled as good a republican ticket as was ever nominated is indeed going far for an excuse.

Green Bay Gazette: A select little meeting is reported to have been held in Madison yesterday attended by Governor LaFollette. It is understood that it was held for the purpose of laying plans for the coming state and makes no pretension at being in sympathy with democracy.

The high and lofty pedestal, which the Journal has mounted, places it in position to become the censor of all parties, and this roll it has assumed. The bugbear of personal liberty is magnified, until its distorted vision it becomes a real animal with hoofs and horns. Populism is heralded in such glowing colors, that a short flight of imagination pictures the state enroute for Washington, under the leadership of Coxe Democracy is maligned, until the friends of Bryan, 6,000,000 strong, have occasion to feel that they are ostracized from citizenship.

While the Wisdom of the Journal is profound, it is destitute of any political policy, and equally destitute of influence. It requires skilled artisans to construct, but ability of very ordinary sort to tear down.

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL PASSED.

The oleomargarine bill, which has caused so much discussion, passed the Senate Friday by a vote of 39 to 31. The vote was in a measure sectional. Nearly all the Southern senators were against it, as they have no dairy interests. The north has extensive dairy interests that its senators instinctively followed the sentiment of their constituents. There were only seven senators from the North who voted against the bill as amended. The dairy interests of Rhode Island are of no account; therefore its senators, Aldrich and Wetmore, voted against the bill. In Wisconsin and Iowa the dairy interests are immense.

Renovated butter gets a hard strike by compelling the vendors of that article to pay a license tax of $600 annually. This was very disagreeable to many members from the dairy states, as they consider it unjust that renovated butter should not pass as good butter; and the other amendment declares that oleomargarine when brought into a state shall be subject to regulation by the state laws. These two amendments were far from agreeable to the originators of the bill, but they let them pass under the hope that in conference the dairy men might secure what they wanted, and the elimination of these two obnoxious amendments. Spooner of Wisconsin, and Bailey of Texas, had quite a tilt on the constitutionality of the bill. If the bill becomes a law, it will ultimately be carried to the supreme court of the United States—Evening Wisconsin.

The late Cecil Rhodes was more than a diamond king. While shrewd and unrelenting in his policy, when he believed he was right, his will indicated that he possessed a heart that beat in sympathy with humanity. His fortune was left to education, and the generous provisions of his will are evidence of the fact that he had an intelligent grasp of the situation.

Afton has two candidates for the office of County Superintendent. If either towns do as well, the cause of education will be well looked after. Mr. Antidel and Mr. Miller, are both well qualified for the office, but it is unfortunate that their ambitions travel in the same channel.

The new cement post factory, while an assured fact, requires a few more subscriptions to let the committee out whole. The industry will be a credit to the city, and a benefit to every property owner.

The governor vetoed the dog tax and the Supreme Court vetoed the ice tax. The state can go on raising dogs and cultivating ice without interference. There are some industries that do not need protection.

Rockford, Beloit and Janesville will soon be connected with the electric line. What has become of the Madison enterprise?

The Ringling Bros. open a three weeks' engagement at the Coliseum in Chicago, next Wednesday night.

The railroads of the country show an increase of business for March over the same month last year.

Tobacco, potatoes, and sauer kraut will be represented in Rock county crops this year.

The Marzluft factory is getting it shape for business, and will soon be in running order.

Men who have been idle all winter can hardly afford to strike in the spring.

The new library building is progressing although not yet ready for the roof.

Baseball promises to have a popular run this season.

Green Bay Gazette: A select little meeting is reported to have been held in Madison yesterday attended by Governor LaFollette. It is understood that it was held for the purpose of laying plans for the coming state campaign and that the LaFollette men are working hard for his re-nomination. Even the prospect that Rose will be the candidate against him, does not appear to weaken them.

Mauston Star: Rose is elected and the outlook for republican success in Wisconsin is not good when men who claim to be republicans, adopt methods like those to gain this point. There is but one solution to the question, that is, turn down LaFollette and his machine and nominate a good staunch republican whom the party can support and elect.

Geneva Herald: There was a bigger mistake made by a merchant than for him to think that he had reached a point where he could do without advertising. He may not realize it, but when he stops, the more enterprising merchant is gradually taking his business away from him.

Neenah News: No matter where you live, just come to Wisconsin and cut all the ice you need. That little law calculating to impose a tax on you for the privilege does not cut any ice. The supreme court has so declared.

Milwaukee Journal: Mr. Bryan continues to talk about the Kansas City platform as though it were something besides an aid in getting on and off the cars.

Marquette Eagle: Rose will find when he comes to run for governor that the people of the state are different from Milwaukeeans.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Colonel Waterson says "the republican party is at sea." It is some comfort to know that it is perfectly seaworthy.

Eau Claire Leader: Fortunately for the credit of the state, the Supreme Court of Wisconsin, has declared the ice tax law which passed at the last session of the legislature unconstitutional. It was a foolish idea from the first and it is a matter of surprise how Governor LaFollette could ever bring himself to sign such a bill. It created no end of amusement at the expense of the commonwealth. It was in reality an export tax which is forbidden in the constitution. It will be a salutary warning to future governors to think twice before appending their signatures to such absurd measures.

A Question of Duty.
Appleton Post: There is scarcely a doubt that the election of Dave Rose as mayor of Milwaukee will serve to make him the next democratic nominee for governor. The question is therefore pertinent what, in that case, will become of the political co-partnership existing between him and Mr. LaFollette? That, of course, will depend. If the latter should be re-nominated by republicans, there would inevitably be a dissolution of the partnership, but if he should not be re-nominated then it is safe to assume that the partnership would be continued and that all the influence which LaFollette could command would be used to make him the next governor, as it has been used to make him mayor of Milwaukee a third term. What is the duty of republicans under these circumstances? Manifestly refuse the re-nomination to Mr. LaFollette, who has proven himself so unworthy of that honor, almost since the day of his inauguration, and who has repeatedly shown that the wreck of his party is the next dearest thing to him to his own continued exaltation.

SMILES.
How would you like to be an ice-man?
No matter where you live, just come to Wisconsin and cut all the ice you need.—Neenah News.
Senator Hoar received word the other day that a friend who had been supposed to have appendicitis was suffering from that ailment, but from acute indigestion. "That is good news," said the senator; "I rejoice that the trouble lies in the table of contents rather than in the appendix."

"Uncle James," said a city young lady, who was spending a few days in the country, "Is that chicken by the gate a Brahmin?" "No," replied Uncle James, "he's a leghorn." "Why certainly, to be sure," said the young lady. "How stupid of me! I can see the horns on his ankles."

"She is the most sacrificin' woman for miles around."
"In what way?"
"Well, whenever they git up a lawn fete or sumpen like for the church in which th' expenses are more'n th' proceeds, th' committee alwus sends her up to acquaint th' pastor with th' result."—Baltimore Herald.

FOR ETIQUETTE ON RAILWAY TRAINS

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN'S NEW CODE PUT IN USE.

Conductors and Brakemen Required to Be Chesterfields, and Always Alive to Wants of Passengers—Engineers Known Hereafter as Engineers—Vernacular of Rails Also Issued

Promptly at noon yesterday the Chicago & Northwestern railway adopted new rules and regulations for the government of its employees. New running rules, new time tables, new technical names, and a new code of politeness went into force. These the officials of the road framed, with the object of insuring a model regime, and to insure a thorough trial every employee has been examined on his ability to carry them out to the letter.

The old and familiar vernacular of the rails has been abolished to a large extent. The snappy remarks of the brakemen and conductors have given place to a politeness that would grace the select circles of a college town. The nuisance of yelling news agents has ceased and to insure no mistake in stations each will be called out several times before it is reached. So near is the etiquette to resemble that of the home, that conductors and officials are to remove their hats when they pass through parlor and dining cars.

Summary of New Code
The rules of conduct on board a passenger train—now called "train of superior class"—are summed up in the new code of rules as follows: "It is especially enjoined on passenger employees to be polite and courteous to all. Coarse and vulgar language from any one employed on this road is positively prohibited under the penalty of prompt dismissal. "Passengers must never be ejected from the cars for any cause except at a regular open station. Trainmen must not eject women or children of tender age; and any person unattended in such condition of mind and body as to be incapable of caring for himself must be placed in the custody of the nearest station agent."

Engine Man Approves Rules
The engineers are rather proud of their new title of "engine men," and when one was asked if engines were not to be given new names he laughingly said:

"No, but we don't take them to a 'round house' now, but to an engine-house."

I have been railroading over forty years, but I never saw a better code. I am going to propose that our union take up this polite feature and call our walking delegate a 'business manager.'"

The rules which were framed by R. H. Ashton, general superintendent and W. A. Gardner, general manager have one phrase that is printed in italics on over fifty of the 135 pages the book contains. This phrase is as follows:

"In case of doubt adopt the safe course; speed must always be sacrificed for safety."

It is expected that the Union Pacific and every other of the exclusively Western roads will adopt the Northwestern's rules, making the systems in the west almost identical.

COLD WAVE MOVING UPON JANESVILLE

Thermometer is Expected to Go to the Freezing Point Tonight—High Winds Predicted.

Another cold wave is moving upon Janesville. Intermittent splutters of snow and a cold raw wind have prevailed today. The temperature will go down to freezing or possibly lower tonight. From 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon until past midnight there was a fall of 20 degrees, or from 61 to 41, and at the latter hour chilling breezes from the northwest were sending the mercury still lower. High winds will accompany the fall in temperature. The winds are expected to reach a velocity of forty miles an hour. Although there was snow at Marquette, Green Bay and in the Lake Superior regions last night it is not expected to be an accompaniment of today's cold weather. The thermometer at White River, Canada, on the shore of Superior, registered 6 above zero at 7 p. m. and twenty above was recorded at Marquette.

A remarkable double rainbow illumined the eastern sky about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon just after a slight rain. Two distinct arches, exhibiting in concentric bands the several colors of the spectrum, were observed. For half an hour the phenomenon was noticed. Besides the primary rainbow there was a secondary arch, concentric with the first, and separated from it by a small interval.

Crushed Stone in Streets
A great deal of complaint is being made by people who own rubber-tired luggies and carriages about the way that the street commissioner is repairing holes in the pavements and macadamized streets. They claim that loads of crushed stone are being dumped into the depressions and left without any top covering. The sharp cornered stones cut a rubber tire so that it is often necessary to replace them when under ordinary circumstances they would last for a year or two without repairs.

Otherwise no damage was done.

LEAF TOBACCO MEN TALK INSURANCE

Seems To Be the Purpose of the Local Association to Start a Mutual Company.

The second annual meeting of the Janesville Leaf Tobacco Dealers' association was held at their office Saturday evening. The old officers were elected as follows:

President—Levi B. Carle.
Vice President—Sanford Soverhill.
Secretary and Treasurer—E. M. Calkins.

The insurance lookout committee consisting of Frank S. Balnes, M. Thayer and Samuel Grundy was continued.

Considerable time was devoted to the discussion of the insurance rates which many of the old time companies are seeking to put in force. So far a number of companies have been found who continue to insure at the old rates, and these companies are getting all of the new business.

The question of forming a local insurance company was discussed by the large number present at the meeting and a goodly number of them were strongly in favor of a stock company with a capital of from $100,000 to $200,000. It was generally thought that such an enterprise would be a paying investment and about a half dozen at the meeting offered to take $5,000 each, and some of them a larger share.

Should the company be formed and it is now very probable that it will be called the Mississippi Fire Insurance Co. of Janesville. While the leaf tobacco dealers are the prime movers in this scheme, the taking of stock will not be confined to tobacco dealers, but will include any good business man.

It is the intention of the principals in this movement to confine the risks to the state of Wisconsin alone and not to take any risk to an amount in excess of $2,500. The matter of forming an insurance company in this city has been discussed for some time and seems to be near the time of consummation.

The tobacco men and other business men share in the belief that a properly conducted insurance company can be made to pay, even at the old rates of insurance.

Some Farm Notes.

This is the year when there should be no chances taken in the provision of seed corn. It will be an easy matter to lose one hundred dollars trying to save ten. I don't mean by this that every man should buy his seed corn, not that, but that he should not let a few dollars be in the way of getting really good seed.

Nip and tuck have a taste to determine which has the long end of the string when both bugs and weeds operate on the same farm.

There are a good many thousand farmers who are trying to find out some better plan than the one they are pursuing. There are others who are satisfied with their present conditions, which may be nothing to brag about. The man who is satisfied with last year's results is trying to do no better.

A good deal is being said about the saving to be made in feeding cattle ground feed over the whole corn. A saving is reported in ground corn and corn over the whole corn. Those who are interested are watching the experiments of stations and neighbors who are pursuing this plan. One must not lose sight of the fact that it takes time and labor to grind corn, and that corn is never so acceptable to the steer as when unhusked. In the measurements of corn and corn meal as compared with corn it must be remembered that in the whole grain the steer does not consume cobs, while in the other, it is consumed and is reckoned in the account. Reports from some of the stations show that corn meal gives larger than the same weight of unground corn. Most feeders believe it to be economy to feed the whole corn and have pigs to follow the cattle.

A number of years ago I saved every old bolt, burr and piece of iron with the idea that it would be of use sometime. I have had occasion to clean out the box several times and the time is approaching when it should be attended to again. It is wonderful the accumulation of such things.

At one time all polled cattle were muley cattle. Latter one breed was called polled cattle and they were always black. Now we have a number of polled breeds, each having a distinct name in which the word polled is nearly always woven. There are the Aberdeen Angus (once called Polled Angus), Galloway, Red Poll, Polled Durham, and I think there are some other breeds that have no horns. There seems to be a desire to get along without horns.

It is barely possible a man can acquire the large part of a township and have lots of stock and yet make a failure of life. A man's life is what he lives and not what he is worth in dollars and cents. It is barely possible for men to accumulate plenty of property and still live a good life.

This is the time of the year when the old stereotyped report comes that Kansas or Oklahoma farmers are plowing up their wheat to put in to some other kind of crop. Farmers living in that locality are doing nothing of the kind. They have a way of letting their winter wheat stand down there and making about thirty bushels per acre at harvest time. After they get the wheat in the granary then they plow it up.

Some of my neighbors are making all kinds of inquiry about rape, sorghum, Kaffir corn and a number of other new kinds of forage plants. I know no way to obtain best facts unless it be a trial in a modest way. Give a trial and measure the result.

It begins to look like seven dollar

BIG SHORTAGE IN TIES AND POLES

An Advance of From 15 to 25 Per Cent for Ties, Is Announced in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

There is an important shortage in the tie, pole and post output of Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota, as a result of the early break-up of the winter in this region.

It was estimated early last winter that the output of ties in the territory described would be 3,000,000, but according to careful estimates, based on interviews with contractors interested in the business, it is found that the shortage will be from 30 to 50 per cent.

Instead of 3,000,000 ties the output will not exceed 2,000,000, and may not exceed 1,500,000. An advance of 15 per cent for ties is announced as a result of this shortage and the same will apply to poles and posts. Cedar is the principal variety of wood considered in this connection. It is said that the same conditions prevail in upper Michigan.

The principal market for ties for the contractors of Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota comprises the states of Minnesota and Wisconsin and Iowa. A very large amount of betterments is constantly being made in this territory and the demand for ties is constant and extensive.

The demand is not as great as it was in 1897, because the roads had neglected betterments for a number of years and all of them seemed to move at the same time to make them. The result was a tremendous demand but the roads are keeping up repairs better now than ever before, and the result is a more even and liberal market.

The agricultural population of the United States is largely on the increase. It is estimated that there are now more farms in the country than there was a decade ago. The farmer is a reader, his family are hogs and eight dollar lambs. Markets are having a peculiar movement just now. The man who has them to go is to be congratulated.

Misdirected economy will sometimes cause a man more work than is good for him physically. A man has but one body to wear out, and if he desires to come to ripe old age he ought to take care of himself. The other fellow will not do it. Every fellow for himself and his satanic majesty is skimming around for all of us. Fool him a lick by taking care of yourself.

Speculation is the last crop any farmer should attempt to raise. We have so many instances where people who are running behind, hope to do well by engaging in speculation and lose all. We may speculate on future prospects for a good crop and that should be the extent of our speculations.

If that memorandum book is not full of items that need doing, it is high time something were written therein. By having a book one can not only determine what ought to be done, but he can select that which should be done first and mark it off the book.

If spraying is not attended to in season all kinds of insect enemies will prey on the fruit when it begins its journey.

At one time I had more grain than I could stack alone and I hired an expert stacker and paid him a good round price for his work. The grain spoiled in the stack and I have been afraid of experts ever since. Some men are experts at getting money and that is about all.

The old fashioned russet apple that once tickled my taste is said to be going out of style because if its skin, I presume it is because tan colored shoes are going out of style. I would rather have the russet apple than be compelled to wear a pair of tan colored shoes.

A sixteen inch disc does better work than a twenty inch disc. There is also danger of getting them too wide. A disc should be just wide enough to take out two rows of corn. That is, the disc should cover two spaces between corn rows and not disturb the outside rows of stubs to such an extent that they will prevent the disc from doing a good job by riding the extra rows. I have observed this a number of times in working with them.

Some men seem to think they are not farming unless they do everything in the most difficult manner possible. They erroneously have an idea that the harder work they perform the greater their success. This idea is gradually vanishing, and when a few more fall into the line of improved farming there will be a great change.

The manure pile is a bank account if it is turned to account. If the barn is banked up with it it will have but little effect on the fertility of the soil on that farm. It is a waste of labor to haul out and dump manure in piles to be scattered later. Scatter directly from the load and on poor soil don't scatter it too thin.

As a disturber of future calculations I know of nothing than can claim to be any more successful than the hog cholera. No one knows when it is coming or at which end of the herd it will first make its appearance. Sometimes it attacks the adult hog and again it catches the pigs and sows. The most successful breeders manage as near as they can so the hogs can be run out at any time.—Wisconsin Farmer.

ONE MAN KILLED; FIVE HURT

Victims of Wreck on the Grand Trunk Road Near Lansing.

Lansing, Mich., April 7.—While the Grand Trunk passenger train No. 6 was passing through Millets, a tank station, seven miles west of here, the rear coach and the Pullman sleeper were thrown off the track. One person was killed and five were injured.

The dead: Abraham Burnstone. The injured: J. L. Gordin, C. Mazeh, Rev. M. J. Ozshoski, Frank Thomas, J. L. Zeigler.

The wreck occurred at a switch on which a freight train was standing. The first seven cars of No. 6 crossed the switch safely, but as the last coach was passing the trucks caught in such a way as to throw it and the Pullman car following off the track and over onto the edge of the freight train. The two cars and the engine were thrown into a ditch. It is said that the switch had been tampered with. The engineer and fireman of the freight train were examining the engine as the two cars crashed into it and they had narrow escapes. The passenger train was running at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred. The injured were taken to Detroit, where all were reported as doing well. Burnstone's body was taken to Charlotte.

STATE OFFICIALS PLANT WHITEFISH

Altogether Nearly 12,000,000 Fry Have Been Placed in the Menominee River at Marinette.

Marinette, Wis., April 7.—One hundred and eleven cans, containing in all between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 whitefish fry, have just been emptied into the Menominee river at the Wells street dock in Marinette by Mr. Frank Southern, of the Wisconsin state fish hatchery at Oshkosh, who, together with J. Vance, is in charge of the state fish commission car badger.

This is the last whitefish the car will take out this year, and is the third that has been emptied into the Menominee river this spring. Altogether there have been between 9,000,000 and 12,000,000 fry planted here since the ice went away. They are put into the water as soon as hatched. The spawn is procured in the fall and takes all winter hatch. The work began earlier this year than ever before. The first carload having been taken out March 10.

In all fourteen carloads have been taken from the hatchery. Last week a load was taken to Sturgeon Bay and from there the steamer "Two Myrles" took it and proceeded to the mouth of the canal on Lake Michigan side, and the fish, 5,000,000 in number, were planted all over the state from nearly every port and whitefish are becoming more numerous in the waters of Green Bay and Lake Michigan every year.

The car contains twelve tanks built along each side and in each tank there are eight chums. When large fish are carried they are put into cans but are placed free in the tank.

A load of these fish have been sent to Racine today and one will be brought here and planted in the river before long. It will contain about 100 cans, but the trout do not run as many to the cans as do whitefish.

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grand sire may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

SSS S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system.

Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases.
